

Destined to Travel 2016

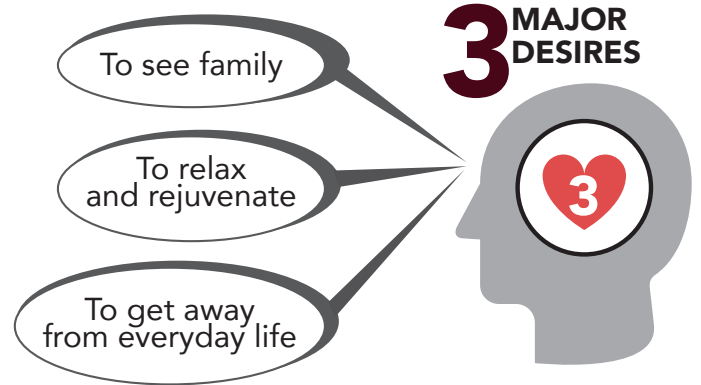

Just because the year is almost over it doesn't mean that you can't still enjoy some R&R. Let's take a look at some of the leading travel trends of 2016. Hopefully, you will find the motivation necessary to cash in some of your vacation days.

Are Your Peers Traveling?

Still not convinced?

There are a lot of different reasons to travel. What's yours?

G R E A T ! You're Going! But to Where?

Sometimes, deciding where to go can be more difficult than deciding if to go at all.

EASY WAYS TO DECIDE WHERE TO TRAVEL TO:

- Decide how long you want to travel.
- Figure out total budget.
- Choose desired environment.
- What experiences are you looking for? Cultural or other?
- Once you've picked all of these choose your activities.

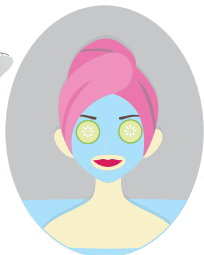

Extra! Extra!

Need some more motivation? Why not try a type of vacation you have never done before?

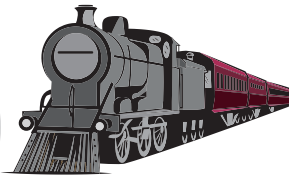

TRENDY VACATIONS:

River Vacations

Healing Vacations

Vintage Train Trips

Don't feel pressured to travel out of the country. Just because that's what others might be interested in doing, you need to make this trip about you and meeting your needs..

- Travel within the USA was up 4.4% in August compared to August 2015.
- Safety and Stability make the US a desirable destination for both international and domestic travelers.

